Listed Components/Additions
Peripheral Control Device	Components that are added to an Orthotic Device with the purpose of controlling a certain aspect of the functionality of that device in a secondary or tertiary manner. For example, they may be added to permit or provide: device volume or fit changes in real time; separation of proximal and distal sections of a device in real time; locking and unlocking of a mechanical joint; flexion or extension assist to mechanical joints; or changing of the transverse plane force structure between proximal anatomical joints and distal anatomical joints.	ORN0000049	25	$757.00
Composite Addition	Lamination additions to devices that increase the strength of the device while decreasing or maintaining its weight. They are typically, but not always, made from carbon fiber or fibreglass.	ORN0000050	15	$565.00
